Boston Petition Wants Doctors Made Exempt From Speed Regulations.

By HARRY WARD.

The great proportion of physicians in this city use automobiles, and they will be interested to learn that Boston physicians have taken the initiative toward getting the right of way when on than three hundred active practitioners in that city has been filed with the Boston street commission, asking that body to amend certain regulations for the benefit of the doctors. They claim that many lives might be saved by physicians reaching a person quicky, where now valuable time is lost be cause of the rules.

The question of physicians getting the right of way has been brought up inmany cities since the automobile has Jargely replaced the horse, but there has been objection to granting doctors any exemption, because it was felt that some of them would abuse the privilege under the guise of professional calls. Much interest will be aroused by this petition, and its results will be watched everywhere, particularly in Washing-

It seems to be almost the universa desire on the part of automobile manu-facturers to cater to the demand for medlum powered and moderate priced Another striking feature is the general effort to attain refinement in detail for the machines of other years. The ungraceful automobile of a few years ago has disappeared, and in its lace have come the beautifully proporloned creations, in marked contrast to those brought out in the early days of the industry. The growth of automo-

Two of the six-cylinder models were loaded today, and are attracting ich attention. The 1910 Winton has a horsepower, six-cylinder motor, four ward speeds, a large-diameter mulle-disc clutch, a very lively carretor, magneto-ignition, a roomy body spended low on semi-elliptical springs. Inch wheel base, and a frame narved in front, allowing short turns. A fixing feature of the car is the self-ring device operated by air pressure, means of which the car may be red from the seat without cranking motor. That the Winton is easy keep in running order is indicated sworn statements secured by the kers from twenty-six owners whose s ran 184.190 miles—more than seven es around the world—on a total upp of $142.43, an average of 77 cents thousand miles.

Winkle, the combination of play and players delighted the audience and bids fair to have a long run.

Rauch & Lang Company Bring Out a New Roadster.

One of the snappy cars of the 1910 season is the Rauch & Lang electric roadster, for which the Motor Sales Company is the Washington agent. It is one of a large line of cars built by the Rauch & Lang Company, which has been building carriages in Cleveland, Ohio, for the past fifty-six years. The electrics are built in a range of sizes and styles to met every demand, from the runabout, the stanhope, the victoria, and the roadster in the smaller open sizes, to the coupe, surrey, brougham, and landaulet in the larger and heavier ears and heavier cars.

The chassis of the roadster has wheelbase of eighty-five inches. It consists of a cold pressed steel frame to which all of the machinery, springs, axles, and other parts are attached Special care and attention has been Special care and attention has been given to the selection of material and proportioning of all parts so that the severe road shocks and strains are amply provided for. The axles are of nickel steel especially treated to secure touginess. Timken roller bearings are used in the wheels because of their extreme strength and ability to withstand severe service.

The motor is of the multipolar type, and is made entirely in the Rauch & Lang factory. A thirty-cell exide battery is used. The brakes are one of the distinctive features of this machine. The
